The Thieme–IUPAC Prize is presented every two years on the occasion of the International Union of Pure and Applied Chemistry – International Conference on Organic Synthesis (IUPAC-ICOS). The 2000 ICOS will be held in Warsaw, Poland, on July 1–5.

The prize is awarded to a scientist under 40 years of age whose research has had a major impact in synthetic organic chemistry.

Prize DM 10 000

The Thieme IUPAC Prize has been awarded to Stuart L. Schreiber (Harvard) in 1992, Paul Knochel (Marburg) in 1994, Eric N. Jacobsen (Harvard) in 1996 and Andrew G. Myers (California Institute of Technology) in 1998.

Call for Nominations

(deadline December 10, 1999)

The prize will be awarded on the basis of scientific merit for independent research dealing with synthesis in the broadest context of organic chemistry, including organometallic chemistry, medicinal and biological chemistry, designed molecules, and materials. Candidates must be under 40 years of age as of January 1 of the year in which the prize is awarded.

Proposals must be accompanied by a biographical sketch of the nominee, a list of the candidate's ten most significant publications, and a statement of how the candidate's research has had a major impact on the field of synthetic organic chemistry.

Nomination materials (8 copies) should be submitted by December 10, 1999 to Lindsey Sturdy, Georg Thieme Verlag, Rüdigerstraße 14, D-70469 Stuttgart, Germany. Telephone: +49 (711) 8931 785; fax: +49 (711) 8931 777; e-mail: lindsey.sturdy@thieme.de.
